Center for Ethics

Workshop Announcement:

Respect, recognition and social-relational equality

Ethics Centre of the University of Zurich, Switzerland

28 and 29 May 2015

The aims of this workshop are, first, to develop a better understanding of the links between social or relational egalitarianism, and theories of respect and recognition. Second, the workshop aims to determine how a normative framework based on respect, recognition and social equality can help to provide guidance on public policy and to address applied ethical problems such as those of poverty, gender injustice and health inequalities.

Confirmed speakers are:

- Kimberley Brownlee (University of Warwick);
- Eszter Kollar (University of Frankfurt);
- Arto Laitinen (University of Tampere);
- Cillian McBride (Queen's University Belfast);
- Gottfried Schweiger (University of Salzburg);
- Juri Viehoff (University of Zurich).

The workshop organizers are:

- Carina Fourie (University of Zurich);
- Fabian Schuppert (Queen's University Belfast);
- Ivo Wallimann-Helmer (University of Zurich).

The workshop is generously sponsored by the Swiss National Science Foundation (SNSF), the University Research Priority Program for Ethics (URPP for Ethics) at the University of Zurich, and the Zürcher Universitätsverein (ZUNIV).

For more information, follow this link: http://www.ethik.uzh.ch/afe/agenda/socialrelationalequality.html

Participation is free but space is limited so please register if you would like to attend. To register, please send a request per email to Carina Fourie stating your name and affiliation: fourie@philos.uzh.ch.